WIDE-EYED IDEALIST

PITCH

The Enthusiastic Naïf | Everygirl

Sara's infectious enthusiasm brings a unique quality to all of the characters she creates. Great with comic timing, Sara specializes in optimists who may have bitten off more than they can chew. In film think Melissa McCarthy in Bridesmaids or The Spy, and in TV she would be a fit for roles similar to Amy Poehler's Leslie Knope on Parks and Rec.

From classics like Helena in A Midsummer Night's Dream to newer iterations like Shelly Long's character in Troop Beverly Hills, Sara's natural sense of humor abounds via characters who are emotionally enthusiastic, even if they are trying a bit too hard. For lead roles she is fantastic as the "lovable underdog" - think Penny Harts in Happy Endings, Eleanor in The Good Place and Ellie Kemper's Kimmy Schmidt.

ABOUT

Sara Coates is best known for her role as Serena a.k.a "Pie Girl" on the hit SyFy series Z nation. She believes she might be getting typecast as a crazy pregnant woman because she also played one opposite Keira Knightley in the Sundance hit Laggies (Lynn Shelton). Sara's other notable credits include Lane 1974 opposite Katherine Moennig (Ray Donovan, The L Word) as well as Language Academy for FunnyOrDie. Her favorite VO credits include Barbie's friend Harper on the Barbie vlog for Mattel and Sara is also the voice of Marguerite Baker in the Resident Evil 7: Biohazard video game, for which she was voted one of the greatest villains in the Resident Evil universe. An accomplished theater actor, improviser (UCB), comedian and writer, Sara originally hails from the mean streets of Seattle.
